

AUTISTIC YOUNG PEOPLE'S EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCES DURING COVID-19

Coronavirus with cross through.
Virus is no more.

Red is virus

WELCOME!

This collection compiles the artworks of a class of year 11 autistic school pupils in July 2021 sharing what education has been like for them during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Me and the virus. Blobs are the virus.

Me and my nephew playing

Covid Test

Keep a safe distance

Vaccine

hand gel

Wear a face mask

Wash your hands
with Soap and hot water

Coronavirus

SCHOOL
MINIBUS

Wear A face mask

Covid-19

Please follow these allows shops closed

lockdown

Obelisk the Tormentor with a mask on.

Card game

Tournament

After Covid
looking forward to school.

I watched the Ageing Tablet, a cartoon - Yu Gi Oh!
I played with my table and my Yu Gi Oh! cards.
This always keeps me happy and it helped me a lot in Lockdown.

STOP COVID 19!

Driving to School With a face mask.

Social Distancing,

Washing your hands

I'm looking forward to have new equipment
at School,

The dining room. People all in the same bubble. Still keeping distance.

more social distancing on Covid-19
Stop Wearing face masks

stop wearing face masks

dining room 10.6.2021

Windows down

Stay Safe and look after each other

Virus at school

A mask for the virus

STOP COVID 19
VACCINE IS GOOD

COVID 19

The yellow is the coronavirus.
The red shows the bubble.
Blue spots give you air in the bubble.
The school is blue.
One light on, one light off.

THANK YOU!

...to the young people who contributed their artworks & to the staff that supported them.

This collection is part of a Sheffield Hallam University research project:
Autistic young people's and families' experiences of education during the Covid-19 pandemic.

You can read the research project report here and see a comic strip of findings here.

Authors and contact details:

Project lead: Dr Jill Pluquailec j.pluquailec@shu.ac.uk

Project Research Associate: Gill O'Connor