Wat betekende de Atlantikwall voor het dagelijks leven in Den Haag? Voor de ambtenaren die de evacuatie, de sloop en - na de bevrijding - de wederopbouw van de stad moesten regelen? En voor de Duitse soldaten, die hier gelegerd waren?

Verdiep je bezoek aan de tentoonstelling. Kies een replica, leg hem op de oranje cirkels naast de vitrines en luister naar de geluidsfragmenten die zijn samengesteld op basis van interviews, historische kranten en archiefstukken.

1 Deze bierpul kregen Duitse soldaten tijdens Kerstmis 1943 als herinnering aan de legering langs de Atlantikwall.

2 De Duitse bezetter had een avondklok ingesteld. Als je na acht uur 's avonds beroepshalve op straat moest zijn, droeg je deze armband.

3 Thee was niet meer verkrijgbaar, maar met ingrediënten als eikels, witlof en krokus viel iets te maken wat op thee leek.

What impact did the Atlantic Wall have on everyday life in The Hague? On the officials who had to organise the evacuations, the demolitions and – after the liberation – the reconstruction of the city? And on the German soldiers who were based here?

Get the most out of your visit by choosing a replica and placing it on the orange circles next to the display cases to listen to sound collages drawn from interviews, period newspapers and archive material.

4 This booklet helped German soldiers communicate with the Dutch population.

5 The German occupation authorities had imposed a curfew. If you had professional reasons for being out on the streets after eight o'clock in the evening, you needed a special pass (Sonderausweis).

6 Genuine sugar was in short supply; this was a substitute sweetener.

The wartime fishing industry

In the course of 1940/41, the Germans requisitioned all the best boats in the Scheveningen fishing fleet. Only a small number of vessels were allowed to continue fishing and then only under German supervision. They had to stay close in-shore and return to harbour before evening. The aim was to prevent boats and their crews escaping to England. From September 1944, the fleet was confined to port and fishing

Personalisation after the visit (17th Feb 2018 13:22)

Building a long-lasting personal relationship with visitors and providing their engagement also after the visit is one of the most challenging tasks for museums. In order to reach this we are exploring how post-visit resources generated in a personalised form – according to what visitors have experienced during their visit – can reinforce their positive attitude towards the experience, have memory and sharing and enable further curiosity and exploration.

Voices from the past in Fort Pozzaccio (17th Feb 2016 12:16)

When the digital content reaches a synergy with the physical space on the 10th Feb 2018, 2017, an old data network fully integrated with technology opened to the public at the Museo della Guerra in Florence, Italy. The installation is based in the section of the museum dedicated to the artillery of the First World War and is focused on the story of Fort Pozzaccio, a great German Warzone stronghold in the Alps of Northern Italy. The visitor is given the possibility of discovering the story of the fort through the voices of witnesses that have been strongly connected with the fort during the 20th century.

DESCRIZIONE DEL FORTE DURANTE LA GUERRA - Michele Rigillo (SOLDIER)

Il Pozzaccio è la fortezza più alta che abbia mai visto. È una montagna rocciosa, fatta a guisa di un picco quasi inaccessibile, che gli austriaci hanno avuto l'idea di trasformare in opera fortificata. Non forte, non bastione, non casematte, né cupole copionate, nella stessa fattura. Sic...
