

HESTER REEVE: ΨΜΕΔΑΚΑ

30.08.14

YSP Centre, NAEA and open air / From dawn till dusk

Hester Reeve's two-year project, to re-map YSP as a contemporary translation of the very first university established by Plato in 5th century BCE, culminates in a one-day open-air experimental academy, YMEDACA on 30 August. You are invited to join a series of 'liberalational manoeuvres' devised by Guardians' selected from local groups. Running from dawn to dusk across the park, the event will come to a climax with the Sacrifice to Athena.

The artist's concerns are documented in two exhibition at YSP – The Temple of the Muses and The Game Plan.

Some events are bookable.
For more information or download the full schedule, visit the official YMEDACA website at:

www.hesterreeve.com/ymedaca

Yorkshire Sculpture Park
West Bretton, Wakefield
WF4 4LG

yvsp.co.uk/hester

Hester Reeve, Blinking Jupiter, 2014. Courtesy the artist

Supported by

