WALK OUT

An exhibition from the
Walking Arts Research Group

WALK OUT is an exhibition of the work made by members of the Walking Arts Research Group at Sheffield Hallam University. Much of the work is a free-form response to the rural and urban environments experienced on the groups walks and residential.

The Walking Arts Research Group provides a collaborative space for the investigation of cross-practice creative production linked to a range of walking practices.

The group has become a forum for practice and reflection, enabling individuals and collaborators to generate their own areas of research interest leading to a range of creative outputs a selection which are represented in this exhibition.
