1. Introduction

This document presents data tables from two household surveys: one conducted at the beginning of the study ('baseline' or Wave 1 survey) and one near its end (Wave 2 survey). Both surveys were conducted by the Belfast-based market research company, Perceptive Insight.

- The Wave 1 (or 'baseline') survey. This was carried out in the case study areas between December 2012 and March 2013. In all 939 interviews were conducted, with interviews being broken down as follows: East Belfast: 253 (Short Strand: 129; Lower Castlereagh: 124); Derry/Londonderry: 250 (Top-of-the Hill: 127; Irish Street: 123); Sion Mills: 220; and Erinvale: 216.

- The Wave 2 survey. This took place between October 2014 and January 2015. In all 931 interviews were conducted. 511 of these interviews were undertaken with respondents who were interviewed as part of the Wave 1 survey. Members of this group comprise the longitudinal cohort. A further 420 interviews were conducted with residents who had not previously been interviewed, with members of this group forming the top-up sample. Results shown here are for the combined sample of 931 respondents.

The following tables present data for both Waves 1 and 2 of the survey, across six themes: health, well-being, finances, neighbourhood, social capital and volunteering. Under each heading the original question, as asked in the survey interviews, is included for reference.

Tables are disaggregated first by case study neighbourhood and then by four socio-demographic variables: gender, age, socio-economic group and religion. Sub-group sample sizes are shown for each table.
